PREPARE FOR HOMECOMING

Getting Ready for St. Jude's Picnic Dinner

St. Jude's Parish of New Lenox will hold its annual picnic this Sunday, and one of the features will be a fried chicken dinner with all the homemade trimmings that is to be prepared and served by the Altar and Rosary society. There will be hundreds served so a meal of that size requires considerable planning as the three women pictured here will testify. They are in charge of arrangements. Left to right are, Mrs. May (Mabel) Reiter, Mrs. Everett (Pat) Merfeld and Mrs. Clarence (Vicky) Wise.

Mokena Baptists Build Own Church; First Services Sunday

The Park View Baptist church of Mokena will celebrate its second anniversary this Sunday, Aug. 5, by holding its first services in its new church building.

Thus has the pastor, the Rev. Arthur Contois, modestly sums up in 25 words a story that would require 25,000 words to really tell it.

This brevity is not surprising. The Rev. Mr. Contois once was employed on the editorial staff of the American Encyclopedia and his training there would develop a terse style of expression with elimination of all but essential facts.

The Park View Baptist church was organized Aug. 3, 1954. Oct. 3, of that year services have been held every Sunday in the Mokena VFW hall. It was decided to build a church. A site was acquired at LaPorte road and Scott street, a block east of Wolf road, on the southwest edge of the village.

Ground was broken for the edifice April 17, 1955. And now this second day of August the job is completed and the first services will be held in the new church on Sunday.

A lot of thought and labor has marked the progress of the church and its congregation since that third of August two years ago. There were 18 persons present the day the church was organized and 33 when the first service was held in the VFW hall in November.

There are only 22 full fledged members now but the church has many friends and the average attendance for services is between 60 and 70 and 70 attend the Sunday school.

What the 22, with the aid of friends, has accomplished has been most remarkable.

They had to have a church, the pastor pointed out, and the congregation agreed but took time out to ponder a very important question—where were they going to get the money? That alone was enough to give them pause. Building a church costs a lot of money. True, said the pastor, but with faith and determination anything could be accomplished. Besides, he added, they could do most of the work themselves so if they could raise the money to buy the materials they would have the job licked.

In addition to theology, the Rev. Mr. Contois, also studied engineering. He had not put it to practical use but now he did. He drew the plans and the working drawings. A $10,000 loan was made thru the Baptist church organization and work was begun.

Visitor to Preach at Mokena Methodist Church This Sunday

The Rev. Louis Teague, pastor of the First Methodist church at Lancaster, Pa., will deliver the sermon this Sunday morning in the Mokena Methodist church. His topic will be, "Man's Place in God's World."

The Rev. Mr. Teague and family are spending their vacation this week with his twin brother, Lyman Teague, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Teague and sister, Mrs. LeRoy Harling and family, all of Mokena.

Mokena to Celebrate 17th Annual Event August 10, 11 and 12

Open 4-H Fair At Peotone

The annual Will County 4-H fair opened yesterday at the Peotone fair grounds with more than 400 boys and girls competing for the trophies offered for prize winning projects.

More than 230 head of cattle, 300 swine and 125 sheep have been entered in the livestock competition. And among the entries in the cattle are two Hereford heifers entered by two Mokena girls, Genie Marcoux and Linda Matasovic. Linda, 14, is a sophomore at Lincoln-Way. Her female Hereford entry last year was grand champion of the 4-H fair and was chosen champion in both open and junior divisions at the state fair in Springfield.

Genie, also 14, a sophomore at St. Francis academy, Joliet, took second place over all grades with her Hereford heifer in the 4-H show last year but at the Will County fair and the Kankakee fair her entry was acclaimed grand champion.

The agricultural division of the 4-H fair also opened yesterday.

Today the 4-H'ers are displaying dairy animals including goats, and swine judging also began this morning. The sheep will be judged tomorrow, the last day of the fair.

A special trophy presentation will be made to the 1956 winners tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock. Altogether there will be 20 trophies. Sponsors of awards include the New Lenox State bank and the New Lenox Lions.

Municipalities Get Their Share of Sales Tax for April

The uly report of State Treasurer Warren Wright show that $3,582,665 was distributed to municipalities as their share of the sales tax paid in April. Municipalities who choose to do so may elect to levy a half cent sales tax which is collected by the state along with its 2½ cent sales tax.

This report is the first to carry the amount due to New Lenox. The village was later than other communities of this area in imposing the sales tax. Sales in New Lenox in April produced $492 for the village.

Mokena receives $860 for April collection and Frankfort $761. Orland Park's share, $625, was substantially larger than it has been in the past. Tinley Park's share of the sales tax in April was $1,170. Other amounts paid to nearby communities are Hazel Crest, $582; Midlothian, $1,776; Oak Lawn, $7,478; Oak Forest, $530; Homewood, $4,240; Blue Island $12,248; Chicago Heights, $18,836; Evergreen Park, $13,582; Lockport $2,595, and Joliet, $45,595.

Chicago's share for April was $1,771,640.

Orland Bank to Hold Open House in New Home Aug. 7-8

The Orland State bank has moved from the quarters on Beacon streets which it has occupied since it was organized 36 years ago to its new, spacious, modern home in the shopping center area at 143rd and La-Grange road.

The move was completed last week-end and while the bank is now doing business in its new quarters the "housewarming" will not be held until next Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 7 and 8.

The hours will be from 3 to 9 p.m., and a large number of visitors is expected for the occasion as the Orland State bank does business over a wide area in southwest Cook county and has many friends.

Orchids will be given to the women who call and there will be refreshments served to all during the two days.

The directors as well as the officers of the bank will be on hand to greet all visitors and while the staff will be busy with its regular tasks its members too will have opportunity to add their welcome.

Louis J. Macaulay, retired contractor of Worth, a member of the board of directors for the past 10 years, is president of the institution. Robert G. Davidson, of Orland Park, head of a construction firm, is vice president; Harwell E. West, of Palos Park, head of a printing business, is secretary; George E. Gee, who has been an official of the bank since it was founded, is cashier, and W. R. Schusler, Jr., mayor of Orland Park and son of one of the founders of the bank, is assistant cashier.

The new quarters are the last word in modern suburban bank architecture and have every convenience for employees as well as patrons.

The growth of business as well as the growth of the suburban area made it necessary to acquire new quarters. The bank outgrew the one room in which it had its beginning many years ago. Since then it has been remodeled and added to several times. Finally the point was reached where it could not be enlarged further yet more room was needed.

It was then decided to erect a new building. The trend today is for business to move to sections where there is room for grouping of various enterprises and ample parking. Shopping centers have won public approval so when a group began the development of a shopping center area in Orland Park the bank elected to move there and thus be convenient for business firms and the people who patronize them.

The new bank has a couple of acres of parking space, all blacktopped. It has two windows to serve those patrons who are in a hurry and do not wish to get out of their cars, and it has a night depository. A more detailed description of the bank's new home appears in another section of this newspaper.

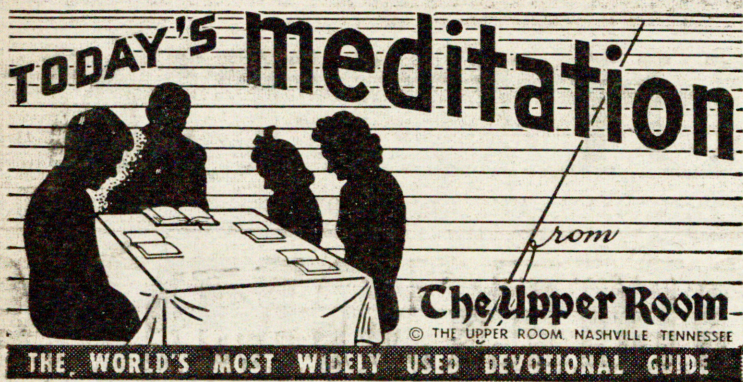

Homecoming this year, as last, is being run by the Mokena Lions club and the Mokena Civic Association and the two organizations have set up a joint operating committee. The chairman is George H. Bills, with Charles Swanberg and Ray Hoolahan as vice chairmen.

Certain events will be held under the direction of the operating committee, including the parade, the distribution of prizes, the queen contest, the exhibits, the popcorn concession and all rides. Lighting and maintenance are provided by the joint operating committee (Continued to page 4)

New Frankfort Methodist Church

The architect's drawing of the proposed new Methodist church at Frankfort shows the unusual in the modern day planning of such edifices. The long, low lines are a great contrast to the church architecture of the past. The cross, which usually rises from roofs or steeples will be of stainless steel and erected on the ground, arising above the height of the church.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 2

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills. (Psalm 121:1.)

We had come to Darjeeling to see God's great mountains, but they were covered with mist. Friends suggested a two-day climb to a 12,000-foot point in order to accomplish our wish. So we secured a guide and set out. The road we took led deep into a valley and then up a steep hill. All day we followed our guide through fog. The second day we continued the climb. Up, up we went.

When evening came, we suddenly broke through the clouds into sunshine. Close in front of us towered the third highest mountain in the world. The long rays of the sun threw a rainbow around us. God's presence was very real that living moment as we gazed in silence upon a bright, enchanting world high above the mist.

Our journey through life has its misty days when visibility is poor. We ourselves cannot see ahead, but Christ, our Guide, knows the way. He will lead us through the clouds of today into the sunshine of tomorrow.

PRAYER

O God, we pray that Thou wilt guide us this day. Help us to lift our eyes heavenward that we may catch a glimpse of Thy glory. Bless us with Thy sustaining strength so necessary for our earthly walk. We ask it in the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven. Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Today I will pray for an upward look.

Christian Science Churches

The fact that all things are possible to God will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit" at Christian Science services Sunday, Aug. 5. Scriptural selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible will include Paul's statement to the Philippians (4:13): "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (182:30-4): "To admit that sickness is a condition over which God has no control, is to presuppose that omnipotent power is powerless on some occasions. The law of Christ, or Truth, makes all things possible to Spirit; but the so-called laws of matter would render Spirit of no avail, and demand obedience to materialistic codes, thus departing from the basis of one God, one lawmaker."

foundation work but the rest of it has been accomplished by the congregation and their friends. The pastor, among other things, had worked as a carpenter and holds a card as such. A number of the building trades are represented among the congregation and there were more among their friends and acquaintances. Their endeavors prompted many to offer assistance. One day a man appeared at the job who said he lived in Chicago and had heard there of the project going on at Mokena. He wanted to help a church so there he was and he returned many times to lend his skill and energy.

There are many stories like that. Put them all together and one realizes that faith and determination are not just words. The ground—or perhaps one could say the sub-ground—floor is English basement type of construction. The outer wall rising four feet above ground surface is of brick and long windows let in ample light and sunshine. The junior Sunday school and Junior Church occupy the basement and there are clubrooms there too for the boys and girls. And there will be a kitchen. Upstairs are the wash rooms, the office, the church proper and a soundproof nursery with glass paneling where mothers attend services with their youngsters. Sound equipment will be installed later so the mothers can hear all of the services.

Later on there will be pews in the church proper but as of now chairs will be used. The church will seat 100.

The exterior walls, above the brick section, are of siding. Later, if the congregation so decides, it can be veneered with brick. There is a 10-foot ceiling in the church proper, an 8-foot ceiling in the basement.

The special services Sunday will begin at 9:45 when the congregation and friends meet at the VFW hall on Wolf road. At about 10 o'clock the Church Bible school members will begin a processional to the church.

At 11 o'clock the morning worship service will begin, emphasizing "Thanksgiving in the House of the Lord."

There will be special music by the Park View choir and Mrs. LaJoy Booble and Mrs. Eugene Peters, and a thanksgiving greeting by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Contois.

Formal dedication of the church will take place Nov. 18, with special speakers from the General Baptist Conference of America.

The congregation has already spoken thru its deeds. It has completed a church that a banker and realtor has valued at $50,000 for approximately $18,000; has raised sufficient funds to pay for the materials used, the pastor's salary and is helping to support work in the mission field, foreign and domestic, and is getting its second wind now to continue with its work and progress.

Park Forest Plans Art Fair

Gerritt Beverwyk, president of the Park Forest Art Center, announces tentative plans for an art fair in Park Forest. The fair will be set aside for the artists' exhibits, work-in-progress and novel entertainment.

Many south suburban artists and craftsmen will exhibit paintings in all media, sculpture, ceramics, jewelry, mobiles and handloomed fabrics for public sale. The Park Forest art fair is organized for the purpose of stimulating community interest in art and local artists and giving the public a chance to purchase original works of art at prices they can afford. Information regarding rules, entry fees and where entry blanks may be obtained can be had by writing or calling Gerritt Beverwyk, 355 Neola, Park Forest, SK 5-6190.

And This Little Pig Just Travels

A pig stuck in a pipe line isn't a special rescue case for the S.P.C.A.—just a routine job for pipe line maintenance men. In pipe line talk, a "pib" is a peculiar assortment of blades, wheels, and brushes which is run thru oil pipe lines to clean them out. A pipe line 'pig' is well named—it 'roots' out dirt, has a round, pig-like snout, and wire bristles which look like the bristles of barnyard porkers, and it grunts and squeals as it moves along inside the pipe. By keeping lines clear of dirt and impediments, these little pigs help oil get to market, and thus help keep American consumers supplied with gasolines, fuel oils, and the countless petroleum products so essential to modern living.

IN HOMETOWN AMERICA

most humans, if they have a minute in which to think, tend to be courteous and thoughtful of others. It is only when the rushing along gets out of control that the thinking goes out the window and the accidents rush in. More and more boat haulers, it seems to us, are becoming aware that the sane use of an automobile is part of safe boating. They take good care of their cars as well as their boats and trailers knowing that an accident to the pulling unit can spell disaster to the unit behind.

Then too, modern trailer engineering such as shown in the Gators and Little Dudes is in a large measure responsible for greater highway safety. They are made specifically for boat hauling and for a tight hookup to a pulling unit.

Why people, some of whom we know, invest several thousand in a boat and outboards and then take it to the lakes on the swaying, hard-to-handle, home-made trailer they use to haul things to the dump is hard to understand. Each trip tempts fate.

In the final analysis, however, it is the human who keeps things rolling smoothly and safely. So far the actions of Illinois boatmen on the highways have been considerate and they have set a fine example for others. There has been no need for special legislation on trailer hauling because the drivers have policed themselves satisfactorily.

If every branch of boating follows the example set on the highways the freedom boat users now enjoy in Illinois will continue for many years.

Water For A Chaser

Waterflooding, a method of bringing up more oil by pumping water into the producing formation, today accounts for five per cent of the nation's crude oil production. By 1980, the figure will jump to an estimated 25 per cent; by early in the next century, an estimated 60 per cent of production will come from water flood projects. Conservation practices such as water flooding assure America of oil for the future.

Sportabout

by
JACK MAYPOLE

As of this week we noted that 719 persons had died in traffic accidents in Cook county alone this year. There have been 18,840 injured.

In not one of these accidents, research shows, has the combination of an automobile and a boat been involved.

This is a safety record for the boating public to be proud of and to make every effort to maintain.

It is possible that the addition of from 14 to 30 feet of length and lots of poundage to the average driver's car may make him a lot more conscious of every move he makes while driving. The addition may, by sheer drag and weight, force him to slow down. And it may be that drivers, forced to take it easy, have more time in which to think.

FIX-UP TIPS

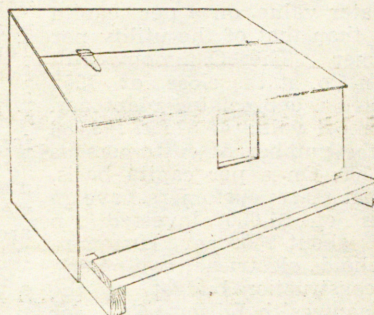

For Farm and Home

Try a Community Nest

NOW is the time for all good poultry raisers to install community nests for better production and cleaner eggs! Installation of community nests in place of the small box type will decrease the number of dirty and broken eggs by 50 per cent.

A community nest, like the one shown, should have one square foot of nesting space for every five hens. Two nests of this sort will accommodate 80 birds.

There are several ways to use these community nests, which are covered with long-lasting, peck-proof Masonite Pres-I-wood. They may be placed against the wall where the sloping roof will prevent roosting on top. Two may be placed back to back anywhere in the poultry house. In that case, use a reel over the ridge to prevent roosting.

The nest illustrated is four feet long, but it may be made any length desired. If nests are more than eight feet long, however, a partition should separate them into four or five-foot sections, with an entrance for each.

Have community nests in the house when pullets begin to lay. They will use them more readily when beginning to lay than after forming a habit of laying in partitioned nests.

For a free plan to construct this easily-made community nest, write Farm Service Bureau, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and ask for AF-204.

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Pursuant to law in such case made and provided, public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted on a separate blue ballot to the electors of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 6, 1956.

REVENUE AMENDMENT Article IX

Sec. 1 The General Assembly may define and classify property for taxation, but all such definitions and classifications shall be reasonable and be based solely on the nature and characteristics of the property and not on the nature, characteristics, residence or business of the owner or the amount or number owned. All real estate shall constitute one class, except that lands used for forestry purposes and mineral rights in land may be classified separately. If any class of property is taxed by valuation, such tax shall be uniform as to the class.

Sec. 2 The General Assembly may levy or authorize the levy of such other kinds of taxes as it may deem necessary, which shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, but shall not levy or authorize the levy of a graduated income tax.

Sec. 3. The property of the State, counties and other municipal corporations, both real and personal and such other property, or part thereof, as may be owned by or held in trust for, agricultural or horticultural societies, non-profit hospitals or schools, religious institutions, cemeteries, or charitable institutions and used exclusively for one or more of such purposes, may be exempted from taxation; but such exemption shall be only by general law. In the assessment of real estate incumbered by public easement, any depreciation occasioned by such easement may be deducted in the valuation of such property. This section shall not deprive the General Assembly of power to classify property for taxation as provided in section 1 of this Article.

Sec. 9. The General Assembly may vest the corporate authorities of cities, towns and villages with power to make local improvements by special assessment, or by special taxation on contiguous property, or otherwise. For all other corporate purposes, all municipal corporations may be vested with authority to levy and collect taxes subject to the restrictions of sections 1 and 2 of this Article.

Sec. 10. The General Assembly shall not impose taxes upon municipal corporations, or the inhabitants or property thereof, for corporate purposes, but shall require the corporate authorities to levy taxes for the payment of liabilities incurred under authority of law. Private property shall not be liable to be taken or sold for the payment of the corporate liabilities of a municipal corporation.

Section 13 of Article 9 of this Constitution is repealed.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article IX will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTIONS 1, 2, 3, 9, and 10 of ARTICLE IX AND FOR THE REPEAL OF SECTION 13 OF ARTICLE IX

(Revenue Amendment)

Explanation of Amendment
This amendment would revise Section 1 of Article IX of the State Constitution so as to permit the General Assembly to classify property for tax purposes, subject to the following restriction: (1) the classifications are to be based on the nature and characteristics of the property and not on the nature, characteristics, residence or business of the owner or the amount or number owned; (2) all real estate is to constitute one class, except that lands used for forestry purposes and mineral rights in land may each be classified separately; and (3) if any class of property is taxed by valuation, such tax is to be uniform as to the class.

This amendment would also revise and simplify Section 2 of Article IX, dealing with the levy of miscellaneous types of taxes, but would require such taxes to be uniform as to the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax. The levy of a graduated income tax would be forbidden.

Other changes are merely routine. This amendment revises Section 3 to require ownership or its equivalent—and not mere use—as a basis for exemption of charitable, religious, and other similar property from taxation. In addition, non-profit hospitals would be added to the list of institutions and purposes for which the General Assembly may grant tax exemption by general law.

Section 9 and 10 would be revised to subject the taxing powers of cities and other local governments to the same restrictions as apply to the General Assembly. The language in regard to obligations of these governments would be broadened, requiring them to levy taxes not merely—as now—for “debts contracted” but rather for “liabilities incurred.”

This amendment would, in addition, repeal obsolete Section 13, which was adopted in 1890 to authorize the corporate authorities of Chicago to issue Columbian Exposition bonds.

under supervision of Willard Munch and Clyde Yunker. Registration will be handled by Roy Richardson; Fred Lehmann is in charge of publicity; H. J. Wrath is chairman of finance; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sherwood will operate the game booth and Norval Robinson is the parade chairman.

There will be two parades, he said, the first being made up exclusively of youngsters. This event is scheduled for 7 o'clock Saturday night. This parade will be made up of children on bicycles, children on foot, children in costume and children with pets.

The parade will form at Florcy's service station at 6:30 o'clock and move off promptly at 7, traveling east on Front street. Ribbons will be awarded for the best decorated bike, largest pet, smallest pet, and for various types of costumes.

The main parade will be held Sunday afternoon, the various units forming at 1:15 o'clock at Wolf road and LaPorte road. The parade will begin at 2 o'clock, proceeding north on Wolf road to Front street and thence east.

This promises to be a large and colorful parade, according to Mr. Robinson and will include several bands. Names of participating organizations will be announced later.

Special entertainment will be offered each night of the Homecoming and Sunday afternoon.

Two girls have entered the queen contest to date, Sheilah Bennett and Rosemary Dempsey, and those in charge are hopeful that others will enter.

The winner will be announced Sunday evening and her coronation will take place at that time.

Mayor John Searth, who has charge of the queen contest, said that a new system was being inaugurated this year. Last year's queen, Beverly Lauffer, will preside at the opening of the Homecoming, lead the parade and take part in the crowning of her successor Sunday night.

The queen chosen this year will serve in a similar capacity at the 1957 Homecoming.

Twelve organizations in the community will operate their own booths under arrangements with the joint operating committee. They include the Mokena volunteer fire department, Boy Scout troop No. 40; the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church; Amvets and Amvets Auxiliary; Sacred Heart League and Holy Name Society of St. Mary's parish; Mokena PTA; Mokena Lions club; William Martin post, VFW; Royal Neighbors and the Sunny Acres Improvement Association. Others are expected to have booths.

Homer School Board Organizes for Coming Year

The special school election to choose a 7-member board for the newly organized Community Consolidated school district in Homer township drew 256 voters to the polling place at Homer town hall last Saturday.

Those elected and the number of votes each received are:

Russell Lauffer, 177; Owen Ott, 148; Merritt J. Cagwin, 144; Robert Burch, 140; Everett D. Holm, 118; Ray Carlson, 118 and Joyce Purdy, 114.

The votes cast for the other candidates in the field were: Charles E. Sass, 111; Robert A. Reiter, Jr., 106; Christ Koehler, 103; Merlin Jungles, 98; Joseph Ponkauskas, 91 and Erwin W. Yunker, 85. The name of Charles Cook was written in.

On Tuesday night the board was declared duly elected and organized for the coming year.

Russell Lauffer was elected president and Ray Carlson secretary.

The length of terms was determined by lot, as follows: Purdy and Cagwin, one year; Ott and Lauffer, two years; Burch, Carlson and Holm, three years.

Will County Superintendent of schools Verne E. Crackel who assisted the board in organizing, talked to the members about their duties and responsibilities which are greater than are those, which fall on school directors.

One of the first duties of the new board will be the preparation of a tentative budget which must be placed on file 30 days before a public hearing on same preceding its adoption. The budget must be adopted before September 25 which is the deadline for the board to adopt its tax levy.

The board also will name a treasurer.

It was agreed by the board that the schools which make up the district—there are five of them—will operate the same as in the past for the coming school because there is no time now to do otherwise.

The board expects to develop plans this year for a central school to serve the new district and also for a transportation system to serve it. None of the schools now have buses.

The board will hold a special meeting next Monday night at the Wells Corner school. The organization meeting was conducted at the Homer town hall but the board plans to rotate the meetings, for a time at least, among the five schools so the members will become familiar with each.

Among the first duties of the board will be the employment of three teachers to replace those that have resigned. Teachers are needed for the Ross and Barnett schools and one for the first four grades in the Hadley school.

L-W Band Returns from Downstate Tour

The band of Lincoln-Way high school, 50 in number, left Tuesday morning by bus for St. Louis, Mo. Enroute they stopped at Springfield where they toured the Lincoln home and monument.

Tuesday night they attended the outdoor theatre in St. Louis where they saw the play, "Kiss Me Kate." They stayed in the Jefferson hotel Tuesday night and returned home Wednesday. They were accompanied by their director Robert Taylor and several band parents.

In Two Ways

Lesson for August 5, 1956

THE United States now has more drug addicts than all other western nations combined—sixty thousand. In the past three years the Federal Bureau of Narcotics has compiled a list of names and addresses of 30,000 known addicts, and the list is growing at the rate of a thousand every month.

These and other facts were brought to light last January by a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee after seven months seeking the facts. Illegal dope traffic, they found out, has trebled since World War II. Whereas at the war's end there was one addict to every 10,000 persons, now there is one to every 3,000. Approximately 50% of all crime in our cities, and 25% of all crime in the nation at large, is traceable to drug addiction.

How Does It Start?

The narcotics evil, like the alcohol evil, like most social sores, begins with the young people. If for one generation you could bring up children and young people with no knowledge of such things and no temptation to indulge, you would have dealt a heavy blow to those who traffic in these things. Nobody, no healthy boy or girl certainly, wants to be the sort of wretch Frank Sinatra played in "The Man with the Golden Arm," or the kind of persons you may find in the hospitals that try to do something with narcotics victims. But young people the traffic must have. Thirteen per cent of all dope addicts in the country are under 21. (These figures from TIME magazine for last Jan. 16.) Now, how does a boy or girl get started on the dope habit? How do they get started drinking? The other night a boy in his second stolen car for that night knocked in two store fronts and woke up in the hospital. His girl friend woke up next morning in jail. Both were about sixteen, both had been drinking—beer, she said. The question is, Why do they do it? What starts them off?

Letting Yourself Go

One answer given by young people themselves is that they are after thrills, "a kick." Just being young is not thrill enough, they have to jazz it up with alcohol or narcotics. Let yourself go! they say to themselves. Go on, faster, faster; when all the thrill nature provides are stale, then go after the artificial jolts you can get from a bottle or a hypodermic syringe. This is not all the fault of young people. Older people often lead them astray. Even teachers may do it, for there is a philosophy of education that says, in effect, that a child must never be made to do what he doesn't want to do. "What I want" is supposed to be the key to happiness. Now this is precisely the opposite of the Christian way of living. Self-control, not letting yourself go, is always a mark of the Christian life in every New Testament description of it. Life without inner control is not only a weak life, it is headed for a crash.

Who's to Blame?

Sometimes the blame for young people's downfall is not to be laid at the door of the traffickers in drugs. Parents themselves who have never said "No" may be to blame. Some years ago a school for girls received this letter from a wealthy woman: "My daughter has always been spoiled and given as much money as she could spend. She is sixteen years old and I'm afraid has the wrong view of life . . . I don't think her companions are just the right sort either . . . I shall try very hard to have her wardrobe proper although it will be extremely difficult because she has always had very expensive and extremely fancy clothes. . . . Please advise as to what subjects she had better take up. If either Latin or domestic science can be taken I prefer D.S. because she knows very little about cooking. I am very glad the girls are requested to keep their rooms in order . . . It is my wish that my daughter becomes what a real American girl should be, a perfect wife and mother, and under your care I hope she will come home to us a different girl." Do you think she did? Do you think she could have? If you had been in charge of that school, would you have accepted this girl? If she finally turned out to be an alcoholic or a narcotic drug addict, whose fault would it have been? The Christian Way is the harder road—till you get to the end!

594 Get Chest X-Rays at Mobile Unit in New Lenox

Five hundred and ninety-four persons took advantage of the opportunity to get a free chest examination Wednesday and Thursday of last week while the mobile x-ray unit was stationed at New Lenox.

The unit was there for the use of all persons in the area and there were people there from Frankfort, Mokena and the country areas.

The mobile x-ray unit is now touring the county as a result of the combined efforts of the Will County Tuberculosis Association, the Will county health department and the Illinois department of public health.

Llew Eggers was chairman of arrangements for bringing the unit to New Lenox and Mrs. Muriel Korista was in charge of publicity. Others who assisted in the clerical work and other chores included Mrs. Lee Robinson of Frankfort; Mrs. Everett Heinicke, Mokena, and Mrs. Irma Wonders of Manhattan.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Miss Beverly Lauffer, member of the Future Homemakers of America, chapter 20 of Lincoln-Way high school, was among 600 girls in the state of Illinois who attended an FHA state leadership training conference last week at East Bay camp in Bloomington.

Hugh Murvey and Jesse Owens were among the outstanding speakers at the session.

Real Estate Boards Oppose Blue Ballot

The Illinois Association of real estate boards, representing 2,800 realtors from all over the state, today voted to officially oppose the proposed revenue amendment to the Illinois Constitution which appears on the blue ballot at the Nov. 6 general election.

President Lewis V. Hogan, Decatur, Ill., announced the association's action after an all day meeting here.

There was only one dissenting vote, Hogan said.

The association, which favored the amendment in 1952, thus joined the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, the Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Illinois Manufacturers Association and taxpayers groups throughout the state who are on record as opposed to the amendment.

Under the current revenue article, real estate has to be taxed by valuation. Under the proposed revenue amendment, the state legislature would have the right to tax real estate under any system it might desire and by any amount.

Orland Bank's New Home Has Forward Look

The new home of the Orland State Bank-located in the shopping center area at 143rd street and LaGrange road-is as modern as tomorrow. It is pleasing to the eye, yet it is entirely functional and meets the demands of convenience that adds to the efficiency of the staff and the comfort of the public.

Long and low and built of brick with just a touch of stone for trim, the building has a gracious, friendly air.

No Greek or Roman columns mark the entrance. Stone planters, filled with garden flowers flank the door of solid glass, graced on either side by tall sheets of more clear glass.

This lets into a foyer that is closed in on the other side by more plate glass and the space serves as a guard against cold in winter and heat in summer.

The bank faces south, toward 143rd street and the entire area about it is covered with blacktop that provides ample, clean parking for customers. There are two acres of parking space.

Two tellers windows along the east side of the building also provide opportunity for depositors in a rush to get service without alighting from their cars.

There is also a night depository for the further convenience of customers.

Paneling of redwood, rubbed down with a trace of off-white gives a homey look to the interior. The lobby itself is 60 feet long with a width of 22 feet.

Along the east side are tellers stations with others along the north end of the lobby. Offices and conference rooms are located on the west side. All interior glass, as well as that in the drive-in windows, is bulletproof.

The vault and safety deposit section are at the front of the building. At the rear are offices for some of the clerical divisions and-having an eye to the future-there is a full basement so constructed that when the need arises it can be converted to banking purposes with little difficulty.

Acoustical ceilings will reduce the clatter of business machines to a minimum and air conditioning will keep staff and patrons comfortable.

The architect was Joseph Hisek. James W. Gee, one of the owners of the Gee Lumber & Coal Co., Chicago, who is a member of the board of directors of the bank, was responsible for the over-all planning of the new banking house. He was assisted in arranging the layout by the Continental Illinois Bank of Chicago.

The contractor was the firm

Travelers Checks Protect You From Loss

Insurance and American Express Travelers checks is a service offered by the Orland State bank that is classified by those who do it, as a happy job. It is a happy job because most people who buy travelers checks are in a happy frame of mind. They may be going on a vacation, taking a trip abroad, or even honeymooning.

Many people have formed the habit of never carrying too much cash on their person when they travel, even on a business trip. They carry their funds in travelers checks.

Travelers checks cost very little and one receives a full refund if the checks are lost or stolen. If you lose them you notify the Orland State Bank, with a list of the serial numbers and denominations of the checks that haven't been cashed. You sign a statement, giving any other details and the information is forwarded to the American Express Co. at Chicago. In a short time your refund is ready.

Travelers checks foil thieves because you sign them at the time of purchase and they must be countersigned by you in the presence of the person who cashes them. Even a skillful forger would have difficulty in faking your signature in the presence of another person.

If you are caught in a real emergency because your travelers checks have been lost or stolen, the nearest American Express Co., upon proper identification, will advance you the cash to continue your trip.

Personalized Checks Are Handy Things

"Personalized" checks for individuals are a comparatively recent banking development...perhaps in the last 15-20 years-although business firms have had their checks imprinted for ages.

Orland State Bank checks carrying an imprint of your name and address cost little but can add to one's credit and prestige when you "pay everything by check".

U. S. Savings Bonds are backed by the credit of the United States and guaranteed against loss in any form, including theft, destruction or loss of the bond.

of Campbell, Lowrie and Lautermilch of Chicago. Arthur Gore, an engineer for the contracting company supervised the construction.

The over-all size of the new bank is 62 feet in width by 108 feet in length.

Proof Dept. Catches All Mistakes

The proof department of a bank specializes in detecting errors.

Here totals, including check totals and deposit totals, are checked by people, and machines.

People no matter how careful they are, can make mistakes but not the proof machine that the Orland State Bank acquired last year.

A product of the National Cash Register Co., the proof machine could be described as a "mechanical brain." Some say it is almost human, except that it is never ill, never has a headache, cares or worries.

From the opening hour in the morning until the bank closes business for the day figures are entered in the machine thru an elaborate keyboard. In addition to checking balances it also carries thru the 20 different totals representing various bank records.

It is 20 adding machines in one and keeps a standing proof check on the records of each department automatically. The proof machine is so intricately designed that it locks if an error has been made by a depositor, the teller or the machine operator. And it will not operate until the error is found and corrected.

The search is made easy, however, since the machine localizes the error to one transaction, prints the amount of the error and shows whether it is on the debit or credit side. Corrections are made easily because the machine subtracts or adds with equal ease.

As a further example of the sensitivity of this machine, the sorting of items is directed automatically by the opening of shutters or sorting rack compartments. When recording an item, the depression of any classification key causes the proper shutter to open on the corresponding compartment. All other compartments remain closed, thus forcing the operator to place the item in the proper compartment. Transit letters are written as a by-product of the proof machine.

At regular intervals a representative of the proof department makes the rounds of the tellers' stations picking up checks. The machines proof the checks against the tellers' totals.

Also at regular intervals during the day's business cash tickets (white for cash "paid in", pink for cash "paid out") and deposits are sent to the proofing department where they too are put thru the machine.

These machines are expensive but are worth it, reported George E. Gee, cashier of the Orland State Bank.

Mrs. Charles Cooper Hostess to Day Circle of Methodist Church

Sixteen members and a guest were present at the day circle meeting of the Orland Park Methodist church, held in the home of Mrs. Charles Cooper, July 26. Luncheon was served at noon by Mrs. Richard Farr and Mrs. Peter Smith. Devotions followed the luncheon, and the regular business session. Mrs. Elmer Newton who had attended the work shop of the western district, in Maywood, suggested organizing a study group circle.

As the next WSCS meeting will be in September, this will give the members time to think over the suggestion, when perhaps the suggestion will materialize. The matter will be brought up again at the Circle meeting the last Thursday in August. The Day and Evening circles will share the expense of material for tea aprons for the girls who will serve at the suppers which the WSCS sponsor. The aprons will all be alike. Mrs. Harvey Cooper sent a planter to Mrs. Ludwig who is a patient at St. Francis hospital.

The Evening circle of the WSCS, will meet Thursday Aug. 16 at the home of Mrs. Harold Shroats at 8 p.m. All members are urged to attend and note that the meeting date has been changed from the second Thursday to the third Thursday from now on.

As a wind-up of the years activities, the Sunshine Maids and Home Bureau members made a trip to the Dunes, July 25 with 39 persons attending, going by chartered bus. The group enjoyed swimming. Potluck dinner was served. A few showers during the day did not mar their pleasure in any way.

Betz, Berrin Springs, Mich., for an outing. They will return Aug. 1. Most of the boy's parents motored to the camp, Sunday, to visit the boys and view the various contests. Troop 251 did very well in the water festival, winning first place in the egg and spoon race and also the towel relay race. The egg race was quite fascinating as the boys had to swim the pool which is 50 feet across, with an egg on a spoon held in their mouth. If the egg dropped off, they would have to dive after the egg and replace it on the spoon and continue the swim.

How $10,000 became 48 Million Dollars!

In December, 1934, Joliet Federal completed the year with $10,890.35 in assets. By 1951, members had accumulated 21 million dollars and in the past five years, have more than doubled that . . . so that now we are $48 million dollars strong and enjoy the position of being Will County's largest financial institution. Here's why thousands decided to save millions in Joliet Federal:

As a savings and loan association, we are mutually owned by our many thousands of members. If you opened an account by mail, tomorrow, you would become one of the owners. And, you would begin to share in the dividends. As people save their money here, it is invested in the building and buying of homes for thousands of families in Will County. This diversified investment in good homes for good people pays interest. This interest is paid back to the savings members in the form of dividends after paying expenses and setting aside part for reserves. Every six months your account is now added to at the current rate of 3% per year. It's highly successful formula has attracted thousands with their millions to Joliet Federal.

If you will just write to us, we'll send you all the necessary papers for saving-by-mail . . . we'll send you a handsome save-by-mail plastic folio, too. Then we'll keep in touch with you about all of our activities and have you as our guest at our big annual meeting. You and other members of your family are welcome to join your Will County neighbors in this mutual effort to save safely a nest egg for your future. Why not write to us today?

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

By L. H. Simerl
Dept. Agr. Economics
University of Illinois

Farm real estate values in Illinois seem to have stabilized, according to Professor C. L. Stewart, college of agriculture, University of Illinois. Citing a recent report by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, Stewart pointed out that average land prices in Illinois did not change from last November to March.

Prices in other midwest states were also quite stable during this period. There was no change in prices in Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan. Land prices declined one percent in Minnesota and Iowa and two percent in Missouri but crept up two percent in Ohio.

For the United States as a whole, farm real estate values increased one percent from November to March.

Since 1950, farmland values have increased 38 percent in Illinois, 50 percent in Indiana, 51 percent in Ohio, 27 percent in Missouri and 25 percent in Iowa.

Compared with 1920, the high year after World War 1, recent prices for farmland were up 61 percent in Indiana, 58 percent in Ohio and 40 percent in Illinois, but they were 6 percent less in Missouri and 7 percent less in Iowa.

Professor Stewart listed several facts that have lifted and sustained prices of farmland in spite of the decline in farm income:

1. Many people see in farmland a safe, long-term investment.

2. Larger farms have become necessary to make profitable use of modern machinery and farmer's own labor.

3. In many areas there is a strong demand for farmland for residential, industrial and commercial developments and for highways and other non-farm uses.

4. Returns from farmland sold at good prices for nonfarm uses often supply money for the purchase of other farmland, even in a tight land market.

chase of other farmland, even in a tight land market.

5. There is a strong demand for part-time and residential farms in many areas.

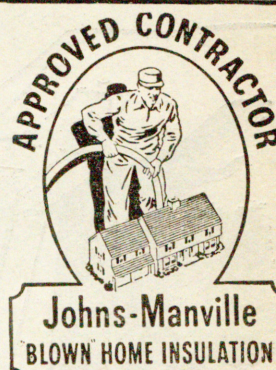

6. Many persons wish to leave an estate consisting of farmland rather than other property that is less well adapted to serving members of a family in succession.

7. Relatively small amounts of farmland have been offered for sale in recent years.

Both federal and state university economists put heavy emphasis on the need to increase farm size. It seems necessary to some operators who want to reduce unit costs without making an additional investment in machinery and equipment. In some cases, Stewart said tenants encourage their landlords to acquire neighboring acreage for them to farm. The U.S. Dept. of Agriculture reports that the desire of farmers to get larger base acreages and marketing quotas for price-supported crops also helps to maintain a strong demand for farmland.

One of the many conveniences offered customers at the new home of the Orland State bank is the drive-in service. As shown in the picture here a customer can drive up to a special teller's window along the east wall of the bank and make a deposit without getting out of his car.

Orland State Bank Formed 36 Years Ago

The Orland Park State bank, which has moved into its new quarters in the shopping center area at 143rd street and La-Grange road, was organized in 1920 by a group of leading citizens of the community.

The organizers included Dr. W. R. Schussler, father of one of the present officials, W. R. Schussler, Jr.; J. F. Schmaedke, William T. Beagley, Louis P. Daniel and August Witt.

Archie Kay, long time Orland resident, was the first cashier. George E. Gee, the present cashier, was named assistant cashier in July of 1920 so he has been active in the affairs of the institution since it was founded.

The bank was opened in a building on Beacon street and remained there until now when its new quarters became available.

When the bank opened a single room, and not an overly large room at that, was sufficient to house its activities. But as its business grew so did its quarters. They have been extending steadily toward the rear or west until the bank finally ran out of ground.

The Orland Park State bank serves a large portion of the southwest suburbs and rural areas and with its business constantly growing it became necessary to build new quarters.

Lewis J. Macauley, of Worth, who formerly operated a well-drilling business but now retired as such, is president of the Orland State bank. He was elected president to succeed the late Ray Doctor. Mr. Macauley has been a member of the board for 10 years.

Other directors are; George E. Gee, cashier, who has been with the bank for 36 years.

James W. Gee, of Palos Park, one of the owners of the Gee Lumber & Coal Co., Chicago, who has been on the board for the past year and a half.

Robert C. Davidson, vice president, of Orland Park, where he operates the Davidson Construction Co. He has been on the board for the past 19 months and was chosen vice president to succeed Mr. Macauley when the latter was elected president.

W. R. Schussler, Jr., assistant cashier, son of one of the founders. He joined the bank in 1943 as assistant cashier. He also is mayor of Orland Park.

Donald O. White, of Palos Park, owner of the American Asphalt Co., Chicago; president of the Orland Park Building Corp. which is developing the new shopping center. Has been a director of the bank for the past seven months.

Harwell E. West, secretary, of Palos Park, owner of Westype, a Chicago printing firm, and former owner and founder of the Palos Regional. He has been secretary and a member of the board of directors for the past seven years.

Handling Checks Is Detailed Job

One gets a lot of service for the little it costs one in maintaining a checking account. It is a convenience for which one pays a reasonable fee when you consider how many times a check must be handled.

Suppose you mail a check on the Orland State Bank to say Hartford, Conn. to pay for some insurance.

It is deposited in a Hartford bank and probably three or four others before it gets back to the Orland State bank. In each bank it will go thru at least three operations, being handled by the teller, the proofing department, and the transit department.

The Hartford bank cashes your check. Then it goes to a correspondent bank and perhaps another before it gets to Chicago, probably the Federal Reserve, and is then returned by that bank to the Orland State where it is debited against your account.

Your check has taken quite a journey and a number of people have followed thru on what was, for you, a simple act.

Many manufacturers only "spot check" their products, examining carefully so many of a certain number of completed items. But, a bank has to examine every check for proper endorsement, date, signature amount etc.

Hawaiian Theme Highlight Party In Laguna Woods

A Hawaiian Lua was held on the Anderson's lawn the evening of the 25th. Gay lanterns made of paper were hung over colored lights strung among the trees and lawn lites consisted of candles placed in paper bags weighted with sand. Each guest brought a part of the menu and Andy barbecued pork over an open fire. Hawaiian music was played thru out dinner which was served buffet style on the lawn. The Hawaiian "lads" wore their loudest sport shirts and some of the Hawaiian girls were dressed in home made sarongs. Janine Nelson, nine years old, wore an authentic grass skirt and gracefully danced to the "Little Brown Gal". The most original costume was worn by one of the late arrivals who created quite a sensation when she appeared in a swimming suit and tied about her waist were stiff bamboo curtains!

Were glad to hear "Grandpa" McBride is doing nicely after his operation and is expected home soon.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS OF THE ORLAND STATE BANK

As we move into our new banking quarters we want to take this opportunity to assure you that it has always been a pleasure to serve you as a costumer and friend of our bank.

It is our sincere desire to make your relationship with us mutually pleasant and profitable. Our aim has been to offer an informal, highly efficient service which fully meets all of your banking requirements. The facilities of our new modern bank building will enable us to fulfill this objective to an even greater extent.

Comparatively few people know of the many ways in which an established bank may be of help to them. We sincerely hope that you will come in frequently to visit our new quarters and let our bank personnel show you additional ways in which the Orland State Bank can be of assistance to you.

Again we want to assure you of our appreciation of the confidence you have reposed in us, and of our sincere desire to be of greater service to you in the future.

As we look toward continued progress we cannot help but pause and reflect upon the contributions various individuals have made throughout the thirty-five years of this organization's existence. Especially do we acknowledge the splendid and able leadership of George E. Gee, the capable administrative ability of W. R. Schussler Jr., as well as the untiring efforts and guidance of the past directors and the late presidents, William Beagley and Ray Doctor. The evidence of their contributions will never be gone, much less forgotten.

Highway Officials Would Learn Why People Travel as They Do

When a resident of Cook county has a choice of several means of local travel—train, bus, streetcar, elevated or his own car—why does he prefer one over the others?

As far as the whole population is concerned, the answer is now unknown. But when a study just started by the Cook County highway department is completed, the tabulations will not only show the percentages of people kinds and of those who use mass transportation regularly, but also using their cars for trips of all so the reasons why they travel as they do.

Many who live in the county, including Chicago, have no practical choice. The 6,000 households selected for the study however, were picked for being so located that the family members might use one of several means, depending upon consideration of comfort, convenience, time saving, cost and the like. "Our purpose is to learn how travel by private car is related to travel by mass transportation," said William J. Mortimer, county highway superintendent. "There is no intention of trying to persuade people to use one or the other against their own preference. Highways and mass transportation are both essential in a coordinated countywide system.

"In order to plan intelligently for coordination, to serve all the people to their best advantage, it is necessary to know how they ride on their daily trips to work, business and shopping. It is especially important to know why they have found one way better than others."

The study will be directed by Leo G. Wilkie, traffic engineer of the county highway department, using 44 college students working during vacation. Each summer for several years past the department has employed students living in Cook county for special projects.

Families to be interviewed have received letters asking their co-operation. No names are to be used. The nine-page form to be presented by the interviewer seeks information of travel habits by all family members 16 and older.

Employed persons will be asked whether they ride to and from work in their own cars or by public transit, such details as the distance, time of trip and route followed, and whether an alternate means would be satisfactory. The final question:

"What single specific factor determined your choice of means of travel—cost is less, comfort, less time required for trip, less walking required, adequate parking facilities not available, adequate parking facilities too costly, car necessary for work, car necessary for return trip, convenience, other reasons?"

Similar questions will be asked of shoppers, both as to trips in their neighborhood and into downtown Chicago. Those who use streetcar, bus, elevated or subway will be asked whether they were able to get a seat and how many times it was necessary to transfer.

Information gained, Mortimer said, will be made available to the Chicago Transit authority and to city and state highway officials.

Still Going Strong After 90 Years

Chicago—Cutting the birthday cake at the Awards Banquet celebrating the 90th anniversary of the Chicago Stock Yards is William Wood Prince, president of the yards, (right) with Walter Wheeler, 79, (center) oldest employee awaiting the first slice, aided by U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

Ninety oldtimers from six Mid-west states—Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana, Minnesota and Kansas—most of them farmers who had shipped livestock to the market for 50 years or more, were presented with gold trophies in recognition of their contributions to the long, outstanding record of the Chicago Stock Yards. Nearly 700 persons, including relatives and friends of those honored, and members of the livestock industry, attended the anniversary celebration which was held recently in the International Amphitheatre at Chicago.

Top honors were shared by two livestock farmers, Fred Anthony, Sr., 94, of Wyand, Ill., and William H. Coultrip, 89, of Somonauk, Ill., both of whom had shipped to the Chicago yards each year for 70 years, starting way back in 1886.

Secretary Benson, congratulating the honored guests and the Chicago Stock Yards for their outstanding records, said:

"Government has encroached on other phases of agriculture, but you have kept your free livestock market. Yours is a free market, a free system, and I hope you can continue to keep livestock in the hands of private enterprise. You must work to keep it free. These men (livestock farmers) are the best evidence of the service the Chicago market has been to cattle men. I do not know of a place where there is a more progressive market; it is the greatest livestock market in the world."

Mr. Prince, president of the Stock Yards, Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago (a former employee at the yards) and Allan Keefer, president of the Stock Yard Club of Chicago, were other speakers who paid tribute to the honored guests. The Club, representing a complete cross-section of the livestock industry in Chicago, sponsored the 90th anniversary celebration event.

School Lots On Sale Again

The Mokena school board, thru the Will county board of school trustees, will try again to dispose of its three lots at Front and School streets. The new sale date is Aug. 25 and the time 10:30 a. m. County Supt. Verne Crackel will conduct the sale.

Bids will be taken on the lots individually and as a parcel. They will be sold at the most advantageous price to the school board.

Terms of the sale call for a deposit of 10 per cent of the successful bid price and the balance to be paid within 30 days.

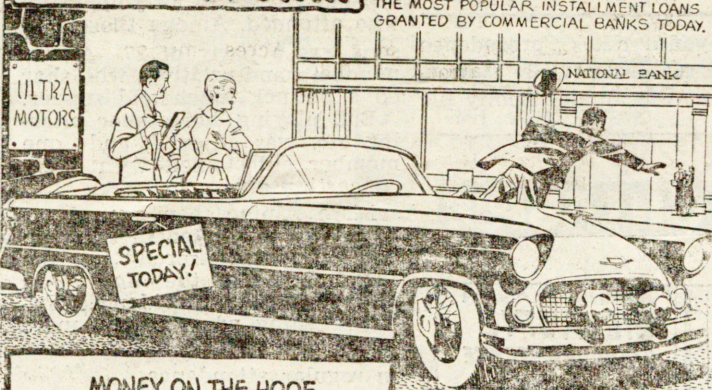

A sale of the property was attempted several weeks ago but without success. At that time the terms called for a minimum bid of $5,000 for the parcel and there were no bidders. This time no minimum price is set.

Carpentier Issues Warning Against "Influence Peddlers"

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier today warned Illinois motorists to beware of persons who represent themselves as being influential in obtaining the reinstatement of licenses following suspension or revocation under the Drivers License Act.

Secretary Carpentier says his office has received evidence that persons whose licenses have been revoked frequently receive letters to the effect that the author can be of assistance in obtaining not only the insurance required by the Financial Responsibility law but also a quick reinstatement of the revoked or suspended license.

The cleverly phrased letters make the inference that the Secretary's office is favoring certain insurance companies by furnishing them with the names of the persons who have been revoked or suspended and are required to file Proof of Financial Responsibility.

Secretary Carpentier stated that the inference made in those letters is not correct. He pointed out that revocation and suspension actions taken by his office are public information, and as such are released to newspapers for publication. Most newspapers print the names of persons in their circulation areas who have been revoked or suspended, Secretary Carpentier said.

Mr. Carpentier said he is investigating the authors of the misleading letters for possible violations of the law, and any information indicating violations will be turned over to the proper authorities.

Tot Swallows Fuel Oil-Is Recovering

While his parents were attending church, he had crawled to the basement and when his grandmother, Mrs. Cecelia Walsh discovered him, he was tilting a can of fuel oil to his mouth. He was rushed to Silver Cross hospital by his aunt, Mrs. Spencer Hauser where his stomach was pumped. The oil was in an open No. 2½ can.

Washington News Letter

Historical Review of Government Subsidies

The committee on agriculture of the house of representatives, in an effort to justify the use of subsidies for agriculture, has compiled a "Historical Review of Government Subsidies" covering the period 1789 to 1954. That summary gives the following facts:

1. Tariffs were the first order of business of the first congress to protect and encourage the development of American industries. Direct subsidies were also provided to ship builders to encourage the building of an American merchant fleet.

2. To encourage water transportation the government between 1827 and 1866 gave to private interests 6,340,339 acres of public lands to stimulate canal building and river improvements.

3. 183,000,000 acres of Federal and state lands were granted to railroads between 1850 and 1871 to encourage railroad construction.

4. Uncounted millions of dollars have been given out as ocean and airmail subsidies to foster development of the different types of transportation.

Recent Subsidy Payments

The bureau of the budget lists our total payment for subsidies from 1949 to 1955 inclusive, as follows:

Agriculture—	$3,373,000,000
Business—	5,873,000,000

Labor—	1,435,000,000
General Subsidies—	9,880,000,000

Total paid out in subsidies ... $20,561,000,000

Our Short-Sighted New Deal Politicians

If there had been no farm subsidies of any kind, there would be no farm surpluses and no "farm problem" today. During global war the government stepped in to stimulate farm production in order to feed and clothe ourselves, our soldiers, and our allies. Wartime became a time of agricultural plenty and agricultural prosperity.

Following the war the New Deal politicians in Washington in both parties—because it was politically profitable—wooed the farmers by maintaining the high 90% support price, thereby building the enormous surpluses of today that depress farm in the market place. The artificial high support price has also priced American farm products out of world markets, thereby losing most of our worldfarm export trade. We actually have lost 2/3 of our total cotton export markets.

Politically inspired government planning intended to help the American farmer has actually hurt him by perpetuating "the curse of plenty". And yet short-sighted New Deal politicians in Washington—still found in both political camps—are yelling for more of the same high farm price support medicine. Experience teaches them nothing. They will not learn.

A Part-Time President

Much is being said these days about Ike being a part-time president. What are the facts as they apply to five occupants of the White House?

Taft—Away from Washington an average of 124 days each year; Coolidge, 96 days; Roosevelt, 136 days; Truman, 86 days; Eisenhower, 124 day (for the first three year—up until his sickness.)

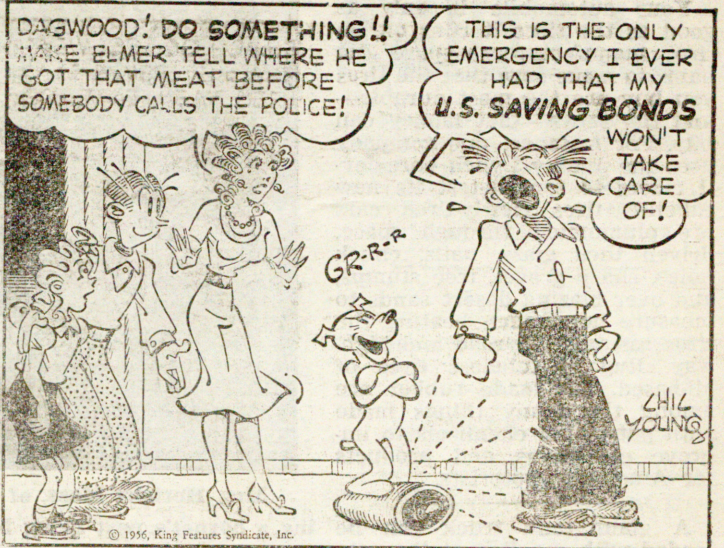

Women can keep a secret just as well as men, but it generally takes more of them to do it.

Dad worked for 18 years, to keep the wolf away. Then daughter up and married one, and brought him home to stay.

The less one has to do, the less time he finds in which to do it.

Screeches From A Tortured Tire

Your automobile is only as good as the tires it runs on, so tire manufacturers spare no pains to make sure that the tires you buy are the most durable—and the safest—that money can buy. For instance, one company uses the Jimmy Lynch dare-devil riders to torture-test its new tubeless tires. Newly-tired cars are plummeted through space, driven thru glass, nails, chuck holes, sharp gravel, tree stumps, and over blazing desert sands to measure how much beating the tires can take on road and highway. Rugged tubeless tires of oil-based, man-made rubber are among the many things made with petroleum chemicals to improve conditions and products for American motorists.

A giant tank truck can be loaded with gasoline at the rate of 400 gallons a minute—that's a load of 5,000 gallons in less than 15 minutes.

American farmers today have nearly 20 billion dollars worth of equipment that needs fuel and lubricants from the oil industry.

Unwelcome Tenants Depart

Mrs. Herbert Moss, of 167th st., Tinley Park, has been watching a hornet's nest being built in her yard for over a year, about 200 feet from her home. When the occupants left this summer, she took down the nest to examine it. It is 12" wide and 20" long and is a real engineering feat.

Also pictured are some elk antlers, estimated to be over 100 years old. The elk was shot at Wireton Junction, west of Blue Island by a friend of the Moss family.

ENJOY TOUR

Wednesday, six members of the Helping Hands 4-H club were entertained on a summer outing by a tour of the kitchen and dining room at Jardine's Motel, Tinley Park, by Mrs. Jardine.

The girls were invited to prepare the salad in the well-appointed, modern kitchen and set up the buffet table. They then enjoyed a delicious lunch as the guests of Mrs. Jardine.

During the afternoon the group, with their leader Mrs. Winnie Bauman and Mrs. Stelter mother of Dorothy Jean, one of the club members, toured the yard goods department of Penney's Department store in Harvey.

Mrs. Harry Anderson, leader, expressed her pleasure she had in working with these girls and the fine cooperation she had received from both the girls and their parents. Mrs. Braasch also is a leader. Refreshments consisted of cookies, cakes and Brownies which the members had made served with punch.

The Cloverettes also competed at the South Cook County Achievement day at Homewood, July 31.

Frankfort-New Lenox 4H

The Frankfort-New Lenox 4H club held their monthly meeting Tuesday July 24 in the Lions Den. The following members gave talks: Wendell Anderson on gardening; Dick Batson told about his Hereford heifer; Dave Erickson, sheep; Jane Oram, the judging contest; Ralph Lauffer, his Holstein heifer; Edwin Termunde told of his five projects, and Charles Ingram talked about his lamb. Mr. Archibald, leader, congratulated the three members Edwin Termunde, Irvin Termunde and Jane Oram, who won at the Will County 4H Club judging contest and will compete at the State contest at Champaign, and Jim Hobbs who won the speech contest for the county and will compete at Springfield.

Plans were discussed for the annual picnic which will take place in September. All members are very busy this week showing their projects at the County 4H Fair in Peotone.

4-H ACHIEVEMENT

The Helping Hand 4H club of Tinley Park held their achievement day in the Methodist church basement July 30 with 34 guests, nine members and the leader, Mrs. LeRoy Bauman present.

Eleven members of the club carried 23 projects including clothing, food and handicraft and had 100 per cent achievement.

Refreshments were served by Marlene Ogden and Donna Martin.

Well-Born Handyman

"Bottled gas" plays the part of all-round handyman to nearly nine million consumers in rural areas. This year, five and one-half billion gallons will be used to help the homemaker in such chores as water and space heating, cooking, refrigeration, clothes drying, and air conditioning. The man of the house has countless uses for liquefied petroleum gas, too—as a fuel for tractors, trucks, buses, irrigation machinery, weed burners, and other equipment. LPG is also used to heat incubators, dehydrate fruits and vegetables, prevent frost damage, and for curing meats and tobacco. Petroleum in its many forms is constantly outdoing its own record of service to America's farm families.

Spicy Fare For Al Fresco Fun

Food smells better cooking outdoors, which is one of the main reasons why Americans have moved to the backyard or patio for much of their summertime dining. Gentle summer breezes waft back and forth the aroma of well-seasoned foods (smelling them during cooking whets many people's interest in better seasoning, and helps them to become better cooks!).

A menu that can't be beat when it comes to popularity includes hamburgers made heavenly tasting with liberal use of Tabasco, the incomparable liquid pepper seasoning which picks up so many food flavors. Tabasco will add a lot of flavor to your favorite recipe for creamed potatoes too, a dish which can be made well in advance and heated indoors. Of course, there's a side dish of barbecue sauce for use in basting while the hamburgers broil over glowing coals.

Barbecued Glazed Hamburgers

1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
1 cup tomato juice

3 pounds ground beef
1 tablespoon salt

Add Tabasco to tomato juice. Pour over ground beef, sprinkle with salt; mix well with a fork. Shape into 12 large or 18 medium patties. Cook according to directions, brushing on each side with "Barbecue Glaze."

YIELD: 12 to 18 servings.

NOTE: For 4 to 6 servings, use 1/2 of the recipe.

*Barbecue Glaze

1/2 cup catsup

1/2 teaspoon Tabasco

1/4 cup prepared mustard

Combine all ingredients; mix well. YIELD: 1/4 cup.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice of Proposed Changes in Schedule.
COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY (Public Service Company Division) hereby gives notice to the public that certain revisions in Standard Contract Rider 12, as contained in Schedule E-3 have been filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission on July 17 1956.

The proposed revisions would limit the redistribution of elec-tricity by customers to buildings in which the practice of redistri-bution exists and to buildings constructed under permits ap-plied for prior to July 17, 1956, except that the practice will be permitted in certain cases where limitation would be impractic-able, such as the furnishing of electricity by a customer to his students or employees, transients, occupants or furnished rooms or of individual offices in profes-sional suites, certain types of concessionaires, and tenants of remodeled buildings originally wired for single occupancy.

Further information with re-spect to these changes may be obtained directly from the Com-pany or by addressing the Sec-etary of the Illinois Commerce Commission in Springfield, Illi-

Six Teen-Age Queens to Reign at Sports Jamboree

Six teen-age queens, represent-ing the Oriental, Caucasian and Negro races, will reign over the two-day Junior Sports Jamboree August 10 and 11 in Chicago, according to Jesse Owens, di-rector of the Jamboree.

Candidates for the reigning queens will be named by the Bureau of Parks and Recrea-tion, one of the seven agencies cooperating with the Illinois Youth Commission in present-ing the Jamboree.

Selection is also being made of the team of 40 boys who will carry a flaming torch from Chi-cago's city hall to the hanson park stadium to signal the start of the track and field events.

Swimming and diving competi-tion will take place at Wash-ington park, with the finals on Saturday serving as the high-light of the annual Bud Billiken day festivities on the south side. More than 3,000 entries have been requested from Chi-cagoland parks and playgrounds, according to Owens, and indi-vidual requests have been re-ceived from nearly 150 boys and girls not affiliated with the par-ticipating agencies.

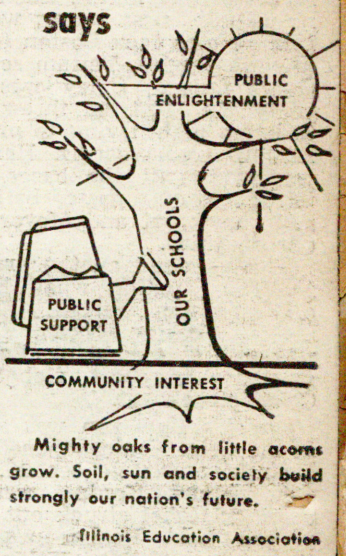

Other agencies cooperating in this year's event are the Chi-cago Park district, the board of education, the CYO YMCA, the BYO and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Will Hold Retreat At Notre Dame U.

The Holy Cross Fathers of the University of Notre Dame will conduct their annual laymen retreat at the university Aug. 12.

The retreat is given for the purpose to afford an opportunity for a layman to get away from the everyday work and surround-ings and to spend three days in a spe. of comparative solitude like Notre Dame, according to the sponsors.

Tinley Police Loop Nine Beats Park Forest; Matteson Next Foe

Al Rodger
The Tinley Park police baseball team continued its march to the sectional championship when it took in the highly regarded Park Forest nine to the tune of 4-1 behind the 2-hit pitching of Bob Rodger.

Tinley opened the scoring in the second inning when Dale Hartwig hit a sharp single and stole second. As Miller flied out to right field, Hartwig stole third base and scored when the third baseman failed to handle the throw.

Korowski worked a pass, DuBois fanned, but Lucas followed with a single, Korowski stopping at third. Jerry O'Neil was out at first to end the inning.

Park Forest tied the score in their half of the second when S. North was thrown out a first, Mullen walked, MacIntyre doubled to score Mullen. J. North was safe at first on an error, but MacIntyre was tagged at third and Levy fanned.

The fifth inning opened with Small safe on an error by the shortstop. O'Neil struck out;

Borms was safe on an error by the pitcher. Hug singled to score Small and Borms scored when the ball caromed off the right fielder's glove. Hug was out trying for third. Rodger grounded out to first.

Tinley added their final run in the sixth inning when Hartwig singled, stole second and went to third on Miller's single to right field. Steege fanned, but DuBois came thru with a double, scoring Hartwig. Miller was thrown out at the plate. Small grounded out at first to end the scoring.

Rodger was the winning pitcher, allowing two hits, while striking out 12.

MacLaglen was charged with the loss, allowing eight hits and striking out eight.

Tinley Girls Lose to Harvey, Defeat Lansing

Tinley Park girls ball team won a game and lost one last week.

They fell victims to North Harvey, 8 to 6, their first loss of the season but bounced back against East Lansing, winning that one 8 to 7 after a bad first inning.

Overconfidence, errors and lack of control by Mickey Yunker combined to bring on defeat in the game with North Harvey. Mickey allowed but four hits but she issued 11 passes and that with five errors left Tinley on the short end of the score. The Tinley girls rapped out nine hits in the Harvey tilt but never came up with a big inning.

It looked bad for the Tinleys in the Lansing game when that outfit came up with five runs in the first inning on five walks, an error and two hits, and garnered two more in the third and seventh. But Tinley kept plugging away with two runs in the first on a pass and a homer; two more in the fourth, one in the sixth to tie it up and then scored twice in the last of the seventh to win.

Shirley Kaneversky, Eileen Bochman and Judy Grav hit homeruns for Tinley and Nancy Barrowcliff came thru with a hard hit single with two out and the winning run on third in the seventh inning.

Mickey Yunker was the winning pitcher. She again gave up but four hits, but had control trouble.

The girls will play Kankakee at Tinley Park Aug. 15. Each team has lost but one game and the game should draw a good crowd.

Runs Out-total Hits as Tigers Defeat South Chicago, 12 to 11

The Tinley Tigers, directed by Moose Nasebandt now possess a 2-1 record in Suburban league play as the result of beating the South Chicago Eagles in a thrilling game played at Tinley last Sunday. Tinley edged South Chicago 12-11 to drop them into a three-way tie for second place.

The game started out what appeared to be a rout. The Tinley club scored 11 runs in the first five innings with four big runs coming in the third and three more the following inning. The scored another run in the seventh. But the Eagles put on a surprising rally in the eighth inning to account for seven runs to add to four previously scored and leaving them only one run behind Tinley.

Tinley took an early 1-0 lead scoring in the bottom of the first on a single by Dave Morlock, a fielder's choice to Anfield which forced Morlock at second but allowed Anfield to reach second when the third baseman threw over the first baseman's head, and a ground ball by Paul Ebeling which got thru the shortstop to score Anfield. Tinley scored again in the second on a triple by Ron Harnack and a single by Ron Dziennik.

The Eagles scored one run in the second and three more in the fourth, but were still behind when Tinley came up with four runs in the third. Dan Anfield walked to open the inning and went to second on Paul Ebeling's single. After Dick Cowger walked to load the bases, Les Beccue doubled home Anfield and Ebeling. A fielder's choice to Don Kuech which caught Cowger going home and a walk to Dean Taylor again loaded the bases. Ron Harnack promptly brought home two men with a double. At this point Tinley was leading 6-1. The lead was cut to 6-4 when the Eagles batted in the fourth. The Tiger fourth saw Tinley score three more runs. Paul Ebeling and Dick Cowger both reached base on shortstop errors. These men scored when Beccue blasted the first pitch into left center for a home run.

Tinley scored twice more in the fifth. Morlock tripped, stayed at third while Anfield was being hit by a ball, and scored on Ebeling's single. A single by Cowger loaded the bases, and Anfield was forced in with run No. 11 when Beccue was hit by a pitched ball. Tinley scored No. 12 in the 7th inning and were breezing along until the Eagle rally in the 8th.

Altho Anfield did not get a hit in the game, he scored 4 runs, one-third of the total run production made by Tinley in the game. With his double and home run, Beccue batted in 6 of the 12 Tiger runs.

Paul Ebeling continues to pace the Tiger hitting attack with a .463 batting average. Other members of the team above the .300 class are Beccue with a .442, Harnack with .326, and Anfield with a .309 batting average.
